

Issue 7 - Autumn 2011

Noteworthy

The Newsletter of Loughborough Concert Band

The band had a quieter than usual summer with many events not reappearing for the 2011 season. Maybe the economic downturn is affecting our activities, more so than we perhaps imagined. Never-the-less the band made good use of the time and our Autumn programme features no less than 10 pieces that the band hasn't performed before and there are still more to come for 2012. We also welcomed some new members to the band - Yvonne on flute, Emily on clarinet and Nina on bassoon.

Despite the quiet summer the band is looking forward to a busy Autumn and Winter period and we have bookings through until March next year. The current season kicked off with a successful concert at St Botolphs church in Shepshed on the 15th October and we hope to entertain many more over the coming months.
